

MUCH MYSTERY AS TO RESULT

Naval Battle Between Japanese And Russians
Is Regarded As A Fake Today.

FLEETS ARE NEAR EACH OTHER

The Story Of The Battle Fought Yesterday, Came From A Russian Officer Who Did Not Know
The Facts.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Singapore, April 13.—The steamer Nubla reported this morning that at noon on Tuesday at Sheppards they met the Russian fleet of not less than forty-two vessels in latitude 8 degrees north, longitude 109 degrees east. The fleet was steaming north at the rate of nine knots and was presumably bound for Saigon.

North and South

Hongkong, April 13.—The British cruiser Iphigenia has telegraphed the naval authorities by wireless telegraph that it passed forty-two Russian warships one hundred and forty miles south of Saigon. The fleet was headed north. Two Japanese warships passed Cape Rock at Hongkong Tuesday night, going south at full speed.

Have Now Coaled

London, April 13.—News was received here that the Russian fleet coaled yesterday off Naluna Islands, one hundred and twenty-five miles northeast of the Anambas group.

Doubts Rumor of Naval Fight

London, April 13.—The rumor of a battle between the Russian and Japanese fleets near the Anambas Islands Wednesday is not credited at St. Petersburg or at Singapore.

The rumor was contained in a dispatch to the Amsterdam newspaper Handelsblad, in a dispatch from Batavia, island of Java, which said that a battle was in progress near the Anambas Islands, east of the Malay peninsula. The dispatch added that five Dutch warships were near the scene.

The rumor, it transpires, was started by two Russian officers on board a German yacht, which arrived at Batavia, accompanied by four colliers. Their version was that the Japanese had lost four ships.

Passes Russian Fleet

Against the rumor is the fact that the British cruiser Sutfy, which arrived at Singapore Wednesday, reported that it had passed the entire Russian fleet at daybreak Tuesday morning 550 miles northeast of Singapore.

A cablegram from Victoria, island of Labuan, six miles northwest of Borneo, says it is reported there that a large fleet has been sighted south of the island of Borneo.

This fleet, perhaps, may be one of Togo's squadrons that has been lurking in the Java sea, guarding the numerous straits. If so, doubtless it has been informed of the passage of the Russian fleet and is in pursuit.

On Watch for Battle

The naval forces of the other powers are well disposed to get the earliest news of a battle. The American cruiser Raleigh is watching off the island of Labuan, northwest of Borneo, and will be joined by British cruisers.

Five Dutch warships, equipped with wireless telegraphy, are at the Andam-bas islands.

Several French cruisers are waiting
off the coast of Cochinchina.

Five British cruisers from Hongkong, equipped with the wireless telegraph, are cruising the China sea,
watching for the clash of the hostile
fleets.

Several United States cruisers are patrolling the waters west of the island of Palawan.

Prepare to Send News

With so many cruisers patrolling the whole field of the China sea, it is believed that a naval battle will be promptly reported at one of the numerous cable stations in the Philippines or on the French coast.

A dispatch to Lloyds from Singapore practically confirms the first information regarding the composition of the Russian squadron which passed there April 8. Lloyds' agent says it was composed of seven battleships,
two armored cruisers, five unarmored cruisers, three converted cruisers, seven torpedo-boat destroyers, seventeen steamers and hospital ships, and a tug.

Russians Doubt Story

St. Petersburg, April 13.—The admiralty has no information in regard to the alleged naval battle in progress
off the Anambas Islands, as reported to a newspaper of Amsterdam from Batavia, and does not credit the possibility of a general naval battle
yet. The officials concede, however, that the Japanese may have attempted a torpedo boat attack on a convoy during the night. It is pointed out that there is no cable connecting the Anambas Islands and Batavia, and that the first news of a fight should come from Singapore unless the Dutch warships are able to communicate with Batavia by wireless telegraph.

Togo's Ships Are Rearmed

Tokio, April 13.—All heavy armament of the Japanese battleships was recently renewed. The estimated strength of the respective fleets is as follows:

Russian.—Seven battleships, with a total of 87,344 tons; two armored cruisers, 14,734 tons; principal guns consist of twenty-four twelve inch, four ten inch, and eight eight inch.

Japanese.—Five battleships, 60,800
tons; eight armored cruisers, 73,080 tons; their principal guns consist of twenty-two twelve inch, one ten inch, and thirty eight inch.

It is reported here that the Russians
at Vladivostok are conducting experiments with six submarine vessels and that these boats are all of foreign manufacture and include French, British, and American types.

The navy department is preparing to ask tenders for the raising and sale of the sunken Russian warships
at Port Arthur.

Illinois Central Passenger Meets
with an Accident Down in Mississippi.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Vicksburg, Miss., April 13.—An Illinois Central passenger train jumped the track near Hurd at twelve-thirty this morning, and plunged down an embankment. Several passengers

jured, but none are reported killed.

BOYS BEWAIL THE SENATE'S ACTS

Bill Limiting the Size of the Fire Cracker Is Passed by the August Solons.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., April 13.—The senate finally passed the anti-firecracker bill, limiting the size to 5 inches long and 3/4 inches in diameter. It advanced the assembly judiciary committee bill cutting down the wage exemption from garnishment from $50 to $30. The senate judiciary committee takes up the Eaton case this afternoon and the capital hearing resumes. Indications are that Eaton will be impeached. The assembly spent most of its time in debating line fences.

Tuberculosis in a malignant form has attacked cattle in the town of Clayton, near Neenah, and eighteen head belonging to A. H. Himman, besides a score owned by others, are afflicted with the disease. A dozen deaths have occurred.

PRISONERS BLOW UP JAIL; ESCAPE

Seven Birds Fly the Bastille at Weston, West Virginia, This Morning.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Clarksburg, W. Va., April 13.—Seven prisoners in the county jail at Weston, near here, blew up a portion of the structure with nitro-glycerine early this morning and all escaped. A pack of bloodhounds are in pursuit.

NO LET UP IN THE TEAMSTERS' STRIKE

Trouble May Now Extend to All the Labor Unions in Chicago.

Chicago, April 13.—What is considered the final conference on both sides of the teamsters' strike adjourned this morning, having failed to agree upon any plan by which the strike can be arbitrated. The teamsters insisted that the garment workers' union be considered in any settlement, but the employers refuse to arbitrate anything but the teamsters' phase of the dispute. The executive board of the Federation of Labor will be called to consider calling out the express drivers and affiliated unions
with a view to extending the strike.
The employers also held a meeting
this afternoon to formulate a plan for an offensive campaign. Each side is determined and bitter. Minor disturbances characterized the progress of the strike this morning.

INDIANA BANK A VICTIM OF ROBBERS

Six Masked Men Rob a Bank and Shoot at Family Who Oppose Them.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Churubusco, Ind., April 13.—Six masked burglars early this morning
dynamited the safe of Gandy's bank and secured over six thousand dollars. The family were awakened by the explosion and attempted to prevent the robbery. Mrs. Gandy, the wife of the banker, was shot in the neck. The injuries were not fatal.

STATE NOTES

The Schock brewery property at Waukesha has been purchased by men who will develop its valuable spring.

Tobacco has been found profitable
in Buffalo county. Three carloads, the first crop, were shipped from Durand on Tuesday.

Scott Sweet, a wealthy Greenbush, Shelbogan county, farmer, has committed suicide by taking carbolic acid.
Poor health was the cause. He had been married three times.

The water in the Fox river on Wednesday reached its highest point in five years. Millmen complain that there is too great a volume of water and some of the mills have resorted to steam power.

The bodies of two men killed in Kenosha county by a train early in January may be exhumed, as it is thought possible that one of them was Eli Reve, who disappeared from Boone, Ia., in the fall of 1903.

Dr. S. Sorenson, Dr. Peter Brown, and Andrew Dahlstrom of Racine have purchased the Folgers Avis newspaper property and organized the Folgers Avis Publishing company, with a capital stock of $5,000. Mr.
Dahlstrom will edit the paper.

The paralysis which attacked T.
G. Atkinson, one of the richest men of Green Bay and president of the Metropolitan Lumber and Metropolitan Redwood companies, is gradually creeping from his feet toward the upper part of his body, making the case most alarming, according to a dispatch from San Francisco.

Preliminary steps have been taken for an election contest in the fifth ward of Racine by Dr. Wheeler, republican, who was defeated by the social democratic candidate by fourteen votes, on the ground that the social democrat failed to get the number of names entitling him to a place on the primary ticket.

CARNEGIE'S TEST OF GREATNESS

True Standard of Man's Worth Is What He Has Done to Benefit Others.

PASSING OF BIRTH AND WEALTH

Old-Time Alliance Is Giving Way to an Ideal in Which America Is Taking the Lead, Europe Tailing on Behind.

Northampton, Mass., April 13.—"The alliance of birth and wealth is being displaced in our day by what a man knows. But that is not the final step.
The future question will be, how a man serves his fellow men."

So declared Andrew Carnegie in his address at the dedication of Carnegie house, the latest addition to the group of buildings known as the Home Culture club of this city, and toward which Mr. Carnegie contributed the sum of $50,000. He continued:

"Here is the true, final aristocracy which can never be displaced—not what a man does for himself, but what he does for others, will be the standard by which a man shall be judged; wherein has he sacrificed himself? Wherein has he benefited others?"

Marching Toward Ideal

"Toward this ideal I think we are marching more directly in America than in any other land; first, because we have less distance to march and fewer obstacles to overcome in that march than other lands.

"It is upon this platform that we all stand, the highest in our land, the president, being in the largest and deepest sense beyond all other men
the greatest servant of his fellows in this glorious democracy. Starting from this plane good roads lead direct to everything that tends to be-stablish the brotherhood of man, the establishment of the true ideal—that of character of service, the test of a man's position among us being the performance of his duties as a citizen."

Approves Municipal Theater

Mr. Carnegie was led into the line of thought contained in the foregoing by his comment upon the fact that Northampton is the first town in the United States to build and own a theater. He approved of the idea, and said that he had got intense satisfaction out of the $2,500,000 he had given his native town of Dunfermline.
He had charged the commission to which the fund was intrusted to spend the revenue so as "to bring into the lives of the toiling masses of the town more sweetness and light; to give them—especially the young—some charm, some happiness, some elevating conditions of life which residence
elsewhere would have denied.

SENATOR BURTON AGAIN INDICTED

Charges.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

St. Louis, April 13.—The federal grand jury today again indicted United States Senator Burton of Kansas

Riello Grain & Security company to protect them from postal investigation; the other two, that he accepted
money for these services.

GARFIELD ASKS DEALERS' HELP

Retailers Of Kansas Are Invited To Give Testimony Before Committee.

EXAMINATIONS TO BE VERY RIGID

Commissioner Plans To Probe The Matter Fully--Will Give Both Sides a Hearing Very Shortly.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Topeka, Kas., April 13.—Boycotts, discrimination, freight rates, and the changes in the price of oil are subjects which the commissioner of corporations, James K. Garfield, will investigate during his stay in Kansas.
Under these subjects are a number of questions which will affect the general result. In order fully to comply with the provisions of the Campbell resolution Mr. Garfield expects to inquire into nearly eighty phases of the oil
situation in the West.

Commissioner Garfield's plan is to seek information direct from the retail dealers by mail. Retail dealers throughout the state recently received letters from Mr. Garfield containing a list of ten questions to be answered and returned to the department of commerce and labor. Dealers who refuse or fail to answer will undergo a rigid examination. Dealers will be protected against publicity in connection with their statements. Some of the questions are:

Questions That Are Asked

Price paid a gallon nearest Dec.
15, 1904, for each kind of oil or gasoline, giving name and brand of each,
and if rebate was secured from invoice price aside from return of empty barrels; were prices for delivered oil, and if not what additional freight or drayage was paid per barrel; price received for empty barrels and how paid; location of tank station; more important changes in price of the two leading kinds of oil during 1901 to 1904; with rebate, if any, in each case;
reference to conditions regarding delivery, barrels, etc., from dealer purchases; past and present prices of oil in dealer's town or vicinity; and the extent and effect of competition

among manufacturers and jobbers;
employment of peddlers and the difference between the prices in dealer's and other towns.

Promise Help to Garfield

It is expected that the answer to these questions, supplemented by inquiries among some dealers, will show to what extent the discrimination between individuals and communities
was practiced before the legislature enacted the anti-discrimination law.

Mr. Garfield held a conference with General Manager H. U. Mudge of the Santa Fe concerning the suit against the Santa Fe, alleging a conspiracy with the Standard in the matter of oil rates. Other leading railroad men will meet Mr. Garfield.

J. M. Parker, secretary of the Kansas Oil Producers' association, conferred with Mr. Garfield. The oil men of the state promised to do all they could to help the commissioner.

Nebraska Cuts Off Standard

Omaha, Neb., April 13.—Following the action of the Nebraska legislature in endorsing the stand of Kansas in the fight against the Standard Oil company, the state has made a contract for the oil supply for all the state institutions with an independent company. Heretofore the Standard has had a monopoly on the state's contract. The opposition is an outcome of a controversy over the acceptance of a gift from Rockefeller for the state university a year ago.

WILL ARREST MEN WHO ARE INDICTED

Grand Jury in the Beef Inquiry Orders Warrants Issued for Prominent Men.

Chicago, Ill., April 13.—Two indictments were returned by the United States grand jury investigation of the alleged beef trust this morning. Bench warrants were immediately issued by Judge Humphrey for the apprehension of the persons named in the papers. Strict orders were issued by the court to keep the names quiet until arrests are made. The basis of the indictments is said to be conspiracy to intimidation of witnesses, although perjury may be in the allegation.

It is rumored the indictments include the head of one of the big packing companies and a prominent employee of another, Edward D. Fish, department manager of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, was arrested today and held under a ten thousand-dollar bond to appear as a witness. Fish has just returned from Canada, where he fled when the investigation began.

WOMEN PAY ALL HONOR TO MISS SUSAN B. ANTHONY

Veteran Suffragist Is Declared To Be The Founder Of The Great National Council.

Washington, April 13.—Having criticized the race suicide ideas of the president and having adopted the moto, "Quality and Not Quantity," the delegates to the National Council of Women decided that Miss Susan B.
Anthony was entitled to the honor of being designated the "founder" of the organization. Her title was questioned, and one delegate declared worthless Miss Anthony's claim, while another said the organization was started in her library. Nevertheless, when the vote was taken no dissenting voice was raised to the resolu-

the title.

GEORGE R. PECK MAKES A SPEECH

COUNSEL FOR MILWAUKEE ROAD GIVES A TELLING TALK

BEFORE UNION LEAGUE CLUB

Tells Some of the Evils of Regulation of Roads by Unjust Legislation.

Chicago, April 12.—At a dinner of The Union League Club of this city tonight, the granting of the Milwaukee Commission was the subject of the discussion. Addresses were made by Interstate Commerce Commissioner, Judge Grosvenor, and George R. Peck, general counsel of The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company. Special interest attached to the address of Mr. Peck, as he spoke directly as the representative of the sentiments of the Western railways on this important topic, having been selected to express their views. As the first formal and authoritative expression from the carriers in the West, there was much interest in what he had to say. In part his address was as follows:

Questions of human conduct have from the dawn of civilization occupied the minds of the thinkers of students and of lawmakers. What policies should be prescribed and enforced in respect to the relations which men bear to each other, has always been a difficult, sometimes, an insoluble problem. As society grows more complex and artificial, the difficulties increase, while at the same time the demand for their solution becomes more imperative and inexorable.

There is nothing more alluring to the well-intentioned mind of a patriotic citizen, than to be shown a wrong, real or imaginary, and a remedy, made to order, or kept in stock, in that great factory which gives its annual output to all who seek it, to all who need, and to all who think they need.

The marvelous progress, the unparalleled growth of the United States has not been the result of government by commissions, and by laws but of the action and counteraction of commercial forces which, under economic laws have worked out, and always will work out, the true solution of the problem.

Our nation is doubtless fortunate in having so large a number of statesmen who know exactly what should be done, and are willing to undertake the task of doing it—the men who decide without thought, and must so decide if they decide at all. But, gentlemen, it is not by denunciation, nor by the declamation of amateur statesmen that great questions of governmental policy are to be determined.

Stripped of its non-essentials, what is the question presented tonight? Is it rebates, or discriminations? No. Confessedly they are things of the past, and besides the recent bill, and the agitation of the rate question, involve only the question of making rates. But it is easy to talk of rates, when nobody is asking for legislation against rebates; it is easy to talk of an obsolete and abandoned evil as if it still stalked abroad. It is dead, and now that it has gone it is long home, I take the liberty of saying that every member of the Interstate Commerce Commission knows the railways were never wholly responsible for rebates. They were not paying out money because they wanted to. The chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1902 stated to a committee of the senate that rebates had practically ceased to exist, and it is within the common knowledge of shippers and of the railways that rebates are no longer paid. Bear in mind, giving preference to one shipper over another is not illegal at common law. Competition is the one thing favored, and competition never gave equal advantages to all. Its very foundation is in preference. The anomaly of the present situation is that the law requires competition and prohibits the steps necessary to secure it. If railways compete they are seized by the Interstate Commerce law—if they do not compete they fall into the hands of the anti-trust law. The result is an absurdity: that therefore the Interstate Commerce Commission should make rates.

The power to determine the reasonableness of an existing rate is purely judicial. The power to fix a rate for the future is purely legislative. The power to prosecute, and send out secret service agents is purely executive. Thus we have in the Interstate Commerce Commission, and in the commission proposed by the Esch-Townsend bill a consolidation of the three great organic powers established by the constitution: legislative, judicial and executive.

I do not now discuss the question whether all these powers can be constitutionally vested in one tribunal; the important question is, whether they ought to be. Should the prosecutor be also the judge and executor, in a civilized government? That is precisely the power the Interstate Commerce Commission assumes and seeks to have strengthened and enlarged. It prosecutes cases; it decides cases; it appeals cases and appears from term to term as a litigant in the courts of the United States.

It is an illogical system, not adapted to the securing of justice but skillfully contrived to prevent it. Statesmen and publicists the world over have praised the American constitution because its framers had the wisdom to separate the three great organic powers of government, and to maintain them in coordinate independence.

But the gentlemen who demand that the rate making power be vested in a commission do not seem to comprehend the sort of power they are invoking. The power to make rates for carriage of articles of interstate traffic if granted at all is granted as a regulation of commerce. But where does the power begin, and where does it end? It begins with the buying, and ends with the selling. If congress can fix the price of a mere incident of commerce—the carriage—can it not regulate the main elements—can it not regulate the price of the goods being carried? If it can, it has not done so, but why may it not, it can fix the price of carriage between the buyer and the seller? How would the business men of Chicago like to have their purchases of commodities for interstate shipment regulated by a commission? If congress fixes the price of hauling articles of interstate traffic there is any reason why it should not fix the compensation of brokers employed in such traffic? There is none. If the power to fix rates for the carriage of interstate commerce exists—which I do not now deny—no reasonable argument can be made against the right of congress to fix buying and selling prices, brokerage and all charges connected with the traffic, from the producer to the consumer. Remember, it is not merely because railways are public service corporations, that congress exercises the power of regulation, but because they carry interstate traffic. In other words the power is exercised not over the corporation, but over the commodities it carries. Let every merchant and every broker here tonight, and every business man who buys or sells in other states than Illinois, understand that the congressional power to regulate interstate commerce, make rates on interstate traffic, logically carries with it the power to regulate buying, selling, and brokerage, for these are all parts of the commerce which congress is empowered to regulate.

Mr. Peck then showed that the power to regulate commerce, conferred upon congress by the constitution, was subject to the limitation that no preference should be given by any regulation of commerce to the ports of one state over the ports of any other state. He contended that under this limitation it was inevitable that government rate-making could only be carried out upon the basis of a distance tariff, which, while it would be within the provisions of the constitution, would be hopelessly destructive of the commercial and industrial fabric of the country, which has been built up under the adjusted system of tariffs, under which a scientific attempt has been made to equalize the disadvantages of geographical location, and place the different producing sections of the country on an equality in the market to which they ship, as is possible. The discussion of this constitutional limitation upon the power to make rates was very thoroughly presented by Mr. Peck, and constituted the principal feature of his address.

In conclusion, Mr. Peck said: "The business men of this great city, so largely represented here tonight, can hardly afford to commit their commercial destiny to the dangers of an untried economic experiment."

Investigate.

Madison, Wis.—Insurance Commissioner Zeno Host of Wisconsin is willing, but not anxious, to investigate the management and condition of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York, and he has been communicated with by various official persons in New York to that end. He gives as his best suggestion that the society, the policyholders and the state of New York will be best served by instituting a thorough investigation to be conducted jointly by the insurance departments of several states, perhaps half a dozen. Such an investigation, he says, would be valuable. It would not be open to the charge that it is a "whitewash" process, the result of politics, in which the public should have little faith and which could do the society little good, however satisfactory it might be. He declares that an investigation of such magnitude and importance ought not to be entrusted to the department of a single state, because political influences are practically certain to lessen the thorough character of the examination and also impair the reliance of the public upon the result. He infers, although he preferred not openly to declare, that this would be true especially of an examination conducted by the department of the home state of the society. New York. He was asked what states he thought would be most desirable to conduct the joint investigation he suggested, and answered that he had no right to make such selections, although he knew that the department of Massachusetts could be relied upon to "cash a spade" in any examination it conducted or assisted in. He also mentioned the departments of Minnesota and Tennessee, the latter of which is in charge of Commissioner Folk, brother to the governor of Missouri. Among those with whom Mr. Host relative to his examination of the Equitable is Senator Frank T. Brackett of New York. Senator Brackett wrote asking the Wisconsin commissioner if he was willing to do such work if occasion presented itself.

MANY STUDENTS EARN THEIR WAY

CONDITIONS THAT EXIST AT THE STATE UNIVERSITY.

IS NOT GENERALLY KNOWN

Happenings of the Great State Institution of Learning Hidden
From the Public.

Madison, Wis.—Recent investigations show that the number of students at the state university who are supporting themselves wholly or partly is between six and seven hundred, or nearly one-third of the total number. These figures indicate that the number of those students who are depending almost wholly upon themselves for their education at the university is increasing. As a result of this increase, the kinds of employment which the students are taking up have grown in number and variety until now these self-supporting students are doing everything from pressing clothes and conducting barber shops to keeping bees and giving music lessons. The investigation, in fact, discloses remarkable ingenuity and pluck on the part of the young men and women who are seeking to get an education and at the same time support themselves. Even some of the foreign born students, such as those from Japan and South America, in spite of the added difficulty of not being familiar with the English language manage to earn enough money to make possible their education.

Many Kinds of Employment

The various ways in which students succeed in getting enough money to meet their expenses is of considerable interest. Many secure their board by waiting on table, carrying out dishes, in restaurants or hotels, and doing similar work in connection with those places. Others secure their room rent, free by taking care of furnaces in winter, shoveling snow, cutting grass, caring for horses, painting wood, heating carpets, and the like. Some who have had training in clerical and stenographic work, succeed in making considerable money by typewriting, stenography, bookkeeping, and clerical work generally. There are some dozen student agents for out-of-town laundries, all of whom are doing a prosperous business in caring for the laundry of their fellow students. Tutoring high school and university students, and giving music lessons, serve as means for paying the necessary expenses of other self-supporting students. The university authorities make use of student help whenever it is possible to do so, and as a result many students are employed by the university, as librarians and laboratory assistants, janitors, temporary clerks, stenographers and typewriters, assistants in the gymnasium. Besides these there are a great variety of employments, including playing in orchestras, vassing for books and delivering daily selling as agents and delivering daily papers, soliciting cleaning and prospecting work for tailors, acting as reporters and correspondents for newspapers, singing in church choirs, and a hundred and one other things that are done but an ingenious student, hard pressed for money, could devise.

Girls Also Self-Supporting

Although the number of girls who are earning their college expenses, in proportion to the attendance, is considerably smaller than that of men, nevertheless there are many young women who are wholly or largely self-supporting. The variety of occupations open to them is naturally more limited, but nevertheless they succeed in securing work of one kind or another. Some wait on table and act as maids at Chadbourne hall and sorority houses, others care for children and assist in housework in private families; and many do stenographic and clerical work. Recently compiled statistics indicate that about 5 per cent of the total number of young women are earning their way through the university.

DOCTOR EXPLAINS SPOTTED FEVERS

Says That Special Efforts Should Be Made in the Spring Against Infection.

"As the disease occurs most frequently in the spring months, it would seem rational, in the absence of more definite information as to how we become infected with it, to give attention during these months to acute inflammations of the nasal passages in order that we may prevent possible extension to the brain of this infection from the terminal portions of the cranial nerves found in the nose," said a prominent physician today.

"Epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis is an inflammation of the covering membranes of the brain and spinal cord caused by a definite micro-organism named the Diplococcus Intracereus Meningitidis. This fact has been established about fifteen years. There are other forms of meningitis caused by various other organisms whose mortality is greater than that of the epidemic disease. This fact should be more generally known.

"Spotted fever, as the epidemic disease is sometimes called, is neither a new nor a rare disease. While it usually occurs in circumscribed localities in the form of an epidemic, as in Boston in 1897 and in New York this spring, it occurs sporadically everywhere. Post mortem examination of sporadic cases of meningitis has demonstrated the Diplococcus Intracereus Meningitidis, identifying the cases as true spotted fever.

"There are no reliable statistics of this disease. Each suspected case should be submitted to lumbar puncture to withdraw cerebro-spinal fluid for examination. This treatment, after a bacteriological examination, the fluid, will decide the diagnosis. No specific treatment is known. Nothing is known of the method of entrance of these microorganisms into the system. They have been found in the nose and on mucous membranes."

APPROPRIATION MAY BE CUT DOWN NEXT

Some of the Legislators Do Not Think University Should Receive Requests

Madison, Wis.—A campaign of opposition is forming to cut down the appropriations demanded for the state university. This has scarcely been hinted at heretofore and there seemed to be no desire on the part of any legislator to oppose the plan of the university president to place the institution upon a new basis of income in the form of a tax of two-fifths of one per cent on the assessed valuation of the property of the state. However, it has become known that one of the big debates of the remainder of the session will be on the university appropriation bill and an effort will be made to cut down the sums asked for. Those who oppose the bill are as yet undemonstrative in their opposition, simply hinting that they think the "professors" are asking too much money. They declare that the money would be better spent in enlarging normal schools, and particularly in improving the rural district schools of the state. Nevertheless, the majority of the members seem to appreciate the needs and the value of the university, and it is assumed that the institution will fare handsomely, even though the two-fifths mill tax bill fail of passage.

YERKES ON CITY OWNERSHIP.

Chas. T. Yerkes, the man who had so much to do with the street railway system of Chicago, was interviewed the other day by a Chicago News reporter. Mr. Yerkes is in position to know whereof he talks. He said:

"Chicago can no more run street railways successfully than you can take wings tomorrow and fly to heaven."

"Judge Dunne is a man of much intelligence; but what does he know of street railways? If he were infinitely more able than he is he could not achieve what he has set himself to do. Municipalities cannot manage great, complex affairs with success. The only place in Europe where anything important in this line has been accomplished is Glasgow and private owners could have done much better there. Young, whom I took away from the management of the Glasgow street railways, was handicapped in his work there although he did his best to minimize political interference."

Scores Chicago Politicians.

"Moreover, the politicians of Glasgow, while ignorant, are honest. Politicians generally in Europe are comparatively honest, whereas the politicians of Chicago are the worst in the civilized world. I hear this morning that Judge Dunne will take over the street railway properties and that it is only a question of price. Therefore, I presume that if Chicago is willing to pay what the owners are willing to accept the deal will be effected. Then Chicago's troubles will begin."

Predicts Loss for City.

"Every great business must be run scientifically if it is to be run long or at all. How can Chicago run railways scientifically? Under the old management, by close figuring, we developed and sustained properties that had a margin of profit. Our successors lost that margin and something besides. Chicago's loss will be still greater and the city will run heavily in debt. Will the poor man suffer? No; because the poor man does not pay taxes. Men with property pay taxes. These will suffer."

Foretells Political Control.

"Chicago is now running its water-works at a cost three times greater than would be that of private management. Chicago's street cars and power houses will be manned by petty politicians. The number of employees will be so great that they and the men whom they can influence probably will control the elections. They will likely hold the balance of power. Then, think of manning the power houses with such men. I used to be compelled to employ a few such persons in order to prevent certain politicians from having it in for me," as they say.

Will Aid Private Ownership.

"Chicago, however, needs the lesson and could not get it in any other way. I am glad the city is taking the direct path to disillusionment. The principle of private ownership will issue from the experiment indisputably vindicated. London county council is making a mess of the electric-lighting business. How it is doing with the tramways we do not know because the council will not give its figures. Municipal ownership in London and elsewhere, in Great Britain is a failure. It is synonymous with incompetence, extravagance and disaster. The taxpayers are holding meetings on every hand to determine how their interests can be protected against the rising rates already here and the threat of worse things to come."

Stands for Individualism.

"America has the greatest manufacturers, merchants and managers of business affairs of all sorts of any country in the world. This is so because of the unrestricted play hitherto of the principle of individualism. The socialist tendency is pregnant with disaster. If America nationalize its railroads, telegraphs and so forth it will go down—down—in the matter of development."

Backs the Millionaires.

"Does any rational man suppose the railroads of America could have been built and brought to their present perfection by politicians? To be sure, private initiative and perseverance produce millionaires; but wherein lies the valid objection to millionaires if they develop the country and add to the prosperity of the people?"

THE DISMANTLING OF THE STATES.

"They who are no longer young in public affairs," says the New York Sun, "are in peril of dizziness by the sudden and novel definitions of the words 'commerce' and 'regulate' in the commercial clause of the federal constitution."

"That which Senator Spooner described as 'dismantling' of the states is going on with incredible velocity. There is a perceptible yearning to stamp marriage and divorce with a commercial brand and bring them into the interstate machinery."

"The descent and transfer of land may come next."

"There is indication that regulation of the money which can be expended in the states of party organizations, when the choice of presidential electors is going on, is to be taken in hand by congress."

"Possibly before long will be developed in Washington projects to regulate the elections of members of state legislatures who may vote for state senators in congress."

"Legislation to take from the states and confer on congress the exclusive right to give franchises to conduct any interstate business has already been commended by the federal executive; and that, too, in the face of a decision by the supreme court that no state can tax a franchise conferred by congress."

"There is edifying reading on that vast topic to be found in the Pacific railway cases, which are in the first pages of the one hundred and twenty-seventh volume of the United States Reports. Some of the states may find hard sledding when they cannot tax corporate franchises."

Centralization is the watchword of the day, and the general government is as badly tainted with the mania, as any class of corporations doing business today."

Experience is demonstrating, however, that erratic state and local government is responsible in large degree for these conditions and many corporations are coming to realize that their only safety is in government protection."

The railways of the country are not the property of any individual state, and yet many people in Wisconsin talk about the railroad property of the state, as though terminal stations were all located within the borders of state."

The legislature is now engaged on a rate bill and other railway regulation and the fact seems to be entirely overlooked that the lines doing business in Wisconsin are the part of a great system."

Iowa went into the rate making business 25 years ago, and the state continues to suffer for the folly. It is not at all surprising that railway corporations doing an interstate business and either directly or indirectly interested in the railway laws of every state, should turn to the national government and ask for laws which shall protect from state interference and gross injustice."

The railroad question is altogether too large to be trifled with. This fact the president discovered when he urged congress to early action. While the rate making power, vested in a commission, may seem plausible from a theoretical standpoint, the principle involved amounts to confiscation. The same theory put in universal practice, would dictate prices and undermine the foundations of business."

Geo. R. Peck, general counsel for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company, spoke at a dinner of the Union League Club last night on the situation from the standpoint of western railways. Mr. Peck is well known in Janesville, and his address, which appears in part, on another page, will be read with interest."

The vote on state school superintendent indicates that political sentiment has not changed very much in Rock county since last November.

The administration forces were unable to muster 1,000 votes for their candidate, while Salisbury received twice that number without organized effort. The constituency of old Rock is still conservative."

The problem which no one attempts to solve is, why conditions throughout the nation are so disturbed in a season of unparalleled prosperity. The country is not suffering for more laws, or for the non-enforcement of statutes now recorded, yet there is a general clamor for reform. It is a good time to do a little sober thinking."

There are more people today engaged in efforts to get something for nothing, than at any previous time in the history of the country. The scheme seldom works successfully. The old injunction "By the sweat of thy brow shalt thou earn thy bread," has lost none of its significance. The sweating may not be pleasant, but it is an important part of the program."

The real issue, just now before the people of the United States, is whether or not we are capable of self-government. The republic is still in its infancy, as compared with the nations of the old world, and it remains to be seen whether prejudice or principles shall prevail in dealing with questions of vital import to permanent wellbeing."

law. There are many objectionable features.

The majority of voters in Chicago, like all other large cities, are not taxpayers, yet this majority has voted for municipal ownership of street railways. The property owners of Chicago have occasion to be alarmed at the outlook. It means a burden of taxation for years to come."

The spasm of reform which is sweeping over the country, is liable to create more evils than it corrects. The masses, who pay no taxes, are arrayed against the classes, which bear the burdens and the contest is unequal."

Laws don't enforce themselves and there's nothing quite so weak as a dead letter law."

It is gratifying to know that there is some sentiment in the assembly for an elective railroad commission."

PRESS COMMENT.

Chicago Tribune: The council ought to order street signs put up at conspicuous places on all corners; and the police should see that they are kept there. (Applies in Janesville.)

Milwaukee Sentinel: At the same time, quite a number of humane, churchgoing people are awaiting that promised sea fight with considerable impatience."

Exchange: While it is true that you have to pay more for your potatoes than you did last month, it is also true that it doesn't cost as much to cook them."

Chicago Record-Herald: Governor Folk has let a young man out of the Missouri penitentiary for promising to quit smoking cigarettes. Folk continues to exhibit signs of real greatness."

Atchison Globe: If you are asking a favor, don't hang around a man when he wants to go. Every argument used after a man commences to edge away is against you."

Racine Journal: Another little girl who ambitiously jumped the rope 218 times succumbed in the date and died immediately after the feat. This occurred at New Rochelle, N. Y."

Rockford Register-Gazette: Bishop Potter says that his subway tavern permits men to drink under "unlifting circumstances." It was not expected that they would lap it up like a cat."

Milwaukee News: Even if the legislature should decline to appropriate the money with which to pay his attorneys in the state ticket case, Governor La Follette may offer them the consolation that they fought nobly in the people's cause."

Appleton Post: There is some good in the modern as there was in the ancient Nazareth. The majority election in Oshkosh turned on the pivot whether slot machines should stay or go and the result is that they are going, under the forthcoming republican administration."

Oshkosh Northwestern: A new set of names has made its appearance in the eastern war dispatches, and the people who are following the events in that quarter of the world will resume the study of their geographies."

Madison Democrat: A citizen of Madison referred to the so-called "bunch" in the common council as "good fellows." It is to be supposed that they are good in each other, but the city ought to get a look in, at least now and then."

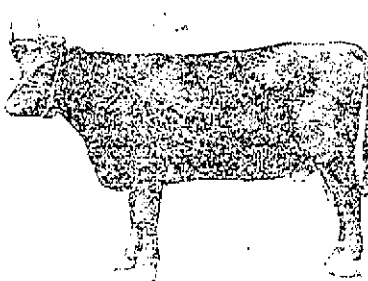

Evening Wisconsin: In Michigan as well in Wisconsin there is talk of a state sanitarium for consumptives, the proposition being that the legislature shall make an appropriation of $50,000 or $100,000 for a sanitarium. The Marquette Mining Journal ventures the opinion that the project will end, as it began, in talk, and adds: "The state is already burdened with institutions."

Fond du Lac Reporter: The advocates of the repeal of the law creating the office of supervisor of assessments have failed in their efforts to abolish the office. This is not particularly pleasing news for Fond du Lac county. The system has not been satisfactory here. It resulted in one expensive revision of the assessment and a compromise on another. There has been general dissatisfaction with the working of the plan ever since it has been in operation and so far there has been no benefit derived from it."

Springfield Republican: If Senator Spooner should receive and accept the proffer of membership in the cabinet as secretary of state to succeed John Hay, it would be a reversal of the rule "three times and out." It would be "three times and in" for in December, 1888, Senator Spooner was offered the position of secretary of the interior by President McKinley and declined the offer, as he did again in January, 1901, when McKinley offered him the position of attorney general from March 4 of that year, the beginning of McKinley's second term."

Washington Post: Is it not nearly time to quit talking about a "restored" union? No northern man can go south, no southern man can go north without saying something or other about the war between the states, its heroes and its glories and how Fitz Lee and Joe Wheeler wore the blue, as though there is something strange about it. The fact is that when Ben Hill rose in his place in the American congress and declared that he and the southern men who thought as he thought were again in their father's house and that they were there to stay he spoke for the entire south and spoke by authority. Yankee and rebel are as much one in our country as roundhead and malcontent are in the old country. But if we continue to protest too much about it somebody may take occasion to challenge our sincerity."

The fact has been proven that a sack of Jersey Lily Flour will make more loaves of bread and better bread than other flours. Take into consideration these points and couple the efficient baking ability of Rock county housewives with this and there are more good cooks around this section than in most parts of the country. The ability of these good cooks is not hampered with an inferior flour when Jersey Lily is the basis. The wonder is that any good cook will be without Jersey Lily Flour—there will be sufficient proof in a trial sack.

TENTH ANNUAL MEDAL CONTEST

HIGH SCHOOL RHETORICAL COMPETITION FRIDAY NIGHT.

WILL AWARD FOUR MEDALS

Program Has Been Arranged—Orchestra to Furnish Music—Athletic Rollies to Sing.

Friday evening's rhetorical contest in the auditorium of the high school building will be the tenth annual medal contest. The first was held in the opera-house in the spring of 1895, when the Mahoney medal for extemporaneous speaking was won by Edwin Wright. Later this medal was carried off twice in succession by Miss Ethel Waggait, now Mrs. L. E. Dennis, and Mr. Mahoney presented it to her for final keeping and a diamond was set in. A medal for extemporaneous speaking was then presented to the school by the Recorder Printing company, a medal for original poetry by Mr. Mahoney, a medal for orations by Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Lovejoy, and another for declamatory work by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Loomis. These trophies have been contested for each spring since then, but none, other than the one given Miss Waggait, have ever been awarded permanently, though Frank Holt in 1902 captured both oratorical and extemporaneous medals and Miss Ethel Bates last year took the oratorical and declamatory medals.

The program Friday evening will commence at 7:45 o'clock and is arranged as follows:

Music—"The Constitution," orchestra.

ORATORICAL CONTEST.

"The Sage of Monticello," Cora Holt.

"Charlotte Corday," Grace Winter-both.

"Catherine the Great," Ruth Fifield.

"The Labor Trust," Orville Swift.

Music—"Judith," orchestra.

EXTemporaneous COMPETITION.

The topics for the speeches will be decided upon by the judges and awarded to the various speakers shortly before they speak. They will probably be given half an hour to consider their subject before they appear. The contestants will speak in the following order: Frank Phelps, Jerome Davis, Clayton Fisher, Clara Jones.

Vol. solo, Athol Rollies.

DECLAMATORY CONTEST.

"Where Is Mary Alice Smith," Florence Spooner.

"Captain Jerry," Ada Longley.

"The Lie," Ethel Hodge.

"The Hundred and One," Erma Shoemaker.

"A Rose of Rome," Elmer Dreyer.

Music—"Vallant," orchestra.

POETICAL CONTEST.

The entrants in the contest in original poetry are never made public, the compositions being handed in to the judges and only the prize poem read and the name of the author receiving honorable mention announced.

Music, orchestra.

Decision of the Judges.

The Orchestra.

The instrumental music opening the program and interspersed between the contests will be furnished by the high school orchestra. This organization has played publicly but once before during the past school year, that being on the occasion when Dr. Beaton of Chicago lectured under the auspices of the Lyceum society. The three pieces to be rendered Friday night have never been played on any former occasion by the orchestra.

The direction of Mrs. Georgia Hyde have been regular and frequent and a high point of excellence has been reached.

The personnel of the orchestra is as follows: violins—William Spohn, William Pienichon, Cecil Burgess, Grant Hyde, Fred Nelson, Robert Jensen, Louise McGowan, Edith Sovorich, Julia Enright, Bessie Slater; mandolins—Wallace Mills, Eleanor Fairclough; guitar—Mary McGinley; clarinet—Archibute Witherell, Lester Strang; cornet—Lynn Cory; piano—Clara Jones.

Is Organized.

The orchestra is organized and managed by regularly chosen officers. The following are the officials:

President—Lester Strang.

Vice president and director—Mrs. Georgia Hyde.

Secretary—Louise McGowan.

Treasurer—Mary McGinley.

Sergeant-at-arms—Lynn Cory.

IS CHARGED WITH USING CURRENT

That Was Not Properly Measured—Claude Messer Denies the Allegation Made.

Claude H. Messer, the well-known electrician, had a warrant served on him last evening at the instance of Manager Korst of the Electric Co. The latter alleges that during the month of February Mr. Messer used electrical current for lighting and other purposes that was not properly measured. No bonds for his appearance were required of Mr. Messer when he entered his plea of not guilty in municipal court this morning and the hearing of the case was set for Thursday morning next at 10 o'clock.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC VERY LIGHT NOW

Is Dull on the Railroads—Middle of October Will Open Busy Time.

Freight traffic on all the railroads at the present time is exceedingly light. About all of the spring deliveries of merchandise have been made and grain and lumber shipments, which constitute a great deal of the heavy traffic, are no longer being made to any great extent. There will be a slight pickup in business about the middle of June, but this will make little difference with the number of men employed or the number of trains run. The busy season will open again about October 20, when produce and grain will commence to move. This class of traffic is largely through business but the local work will also increase. A large number of cars of sugar beets will again be shipped into Janesville from the surrounding towns and this together with the regular fall and winter local business will cause a rush in the Janesville yards. The shipments of grain will last all winter and after the lumber begins to move freight traffic will again be at its height.

BEST HATED MAN IN RUSSIA

Recently Assassinated Member of the Czar's Family Is Thus Spoken Of.

"The violent death of Grand Duke Sergius," said an English traveler at the Waldorf, who reports the New York Tribune, had recently arrived from Russia, "was the best blow that has been struck for the rights of the Russian masses. I simply reflect the opinion of the people of observation and independent thought in Moscow, who were familiar with the arrogant manners, reprehensible habits and baneful influence of the grand duke over the emperor. He was the best hated man in Russia. He was really responsible, as governor general, for the death of 5,000 persons who were crushed at the coronation ceremonial on Hodynsky Plain in 1896, and to stifle the public clamor it was necessary to shift the blame to other than imperial shoulders; the chief of police was accordingly made a vicarious sacrifice."

"He was banished, for a consideration said to have been equivalent of $500,000, 'without petition' or the right of return. Nevertheless, when the popular attention had been diverted he did return, and was made governor-general of one of the provinces. In the military maneuvers a couple of years ago south of Moscow, Sergius and Kuropatkin were pitted against each other as the commanders of the contending armies. The sudden appearance of Sergius in Moscow before the end of the maneuvers was commented on, and the explanation came later that Gen. Kuropatkin had inconsiderately taken Sergius prisoner and seriously ruffled the grand ducal pride."

Henry White, the new ambassador to Italy, passed through Turin yesterday on the way to Rome. He had for a traveling companion M. Muravioff, the new Russian ambassador to the quinal.

Fox and Puppy Play.
A vixen fox about two years old and a puppy found from Earl Butnurst's kennels are to be seen playing together at Church Farm, Siddington, near Cirencester, England. The vixen was caught when very young. Children caress her, and the foxhound puppy and she play together for hours.

GLADDEN ASSERTS ALL BOOTY GOOD

Minister Takes Parting Shot at Foreign Missions Board for Accepting Gift From John D. Rockefeller.

Columbus, April 13.—"The pirate or the train robber may bring his booty to the treasury of the American board and it will be thankfully received, and if sufficiently large will be described as a 'magnificent gift.'"

This parting shot at the prudential committee of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions was fired by Rev. Washington Gladden, when informed that the committee had taken final action accepting the Rockefeller gift of $100,000.

"By the decision," continued Dr. Gladden, "the prudential committee rejects the word of Him who said, 'I hate robbery for burnt offerings,' and reverses the ethical judgment respecting the rewards of iniquity which has guided Christendom hitherto. It openly proclaims that money to which the giver has no moral right may be rightfully given to a missionary society if only his motive is to do good with it, and it assumes the power of judging the motive of the giver. It knows and declares to the world that there can be no motive but that of benevolence in the bestowal of this gift."

"That is a great testimony from such a high authority. From this decision the appeal will now be taken to the conscience of the Congregational churches and the conscience of Christendom."

PUBLIC TO CONTROL UTILITY CONCERNS

Michigan Legislator Wants to Give Municipalities Power to Regulate Rates Charged by Corporations.

Lansing, Mich., April 13.—Representative Bland of Detroit introduced three important bills in the legislature aimed to give municipalities power over public corporations. One is a bill to fix street car fares, the second to confer on boards of supervisors power to fix and prescribe reasonable fares, rates and tolls to be charged by corporations or persons engaged in the street railway, gas, water supply, telephone or electric lighting business or public service within their several counties, and the third confers the same power on cities. The first bill provides that in cities of more than 300,000 population the maximum fare shall not exceed 3 cents, including the right to transfer, and that 5 cents shall entitle a passenger to a return ticket.

The radical primary reform element in the lower house won a victory in substituting the Dickinson state-wide primary reform bill for the Double Ivory local option measure, which had been made the special order. The vote was 53 to 42 in committee of the whole. The Double Ivory bill provides for local option in regard to the primaries for elections in the respective counties, but makes no provision for primaries for the nomination of state officers. The Dickinson bill, on the contrary, provides for primaries for the nomination of governor and lieutenant governor and makes the primary system compulsory for all the counties.

Pasteurization Absolutely Kills Dangerous Germs in Milk

There is grave danger from bovine tuberculosis, in that it can be transmitted to human beings through drinking the milk of an infected animal. The following extracts from a recent issue of a Madison paper should be given serious consideration:

"I venture to say that a large majority of the dairy herds supplying milk and cream to Madison are infected with tuberculosis to a greater or less extent. This part of the state is infested with bovine tuberculosis more than any other section of Wisconsin." This is the astounding declaration of Secretary of State Houser.

Scores of families in Madison are denying themselves the use of milk, cream, and butter because of the discovery that one of the big herds near there, the milk from which was sold throughout the city promiscuously, was so badly affected with tuberculosis as to require the killing of 21 of the cows. The alarm is intensified by the report that State Veterinarian Roberts of Janesville has been killing cattle affected with tuberculosis at the rate of two herds a week.

All this alarm and activity is based upon the belief by many citizens and many physicians and scientists that bovine tuberculosis can be transmitted to human beings through the drinking of the milk of an infected animal.

The foregoing is fact. Can you afford to run the chance? Pasteurized Milk absolutely destroys germs. Our Milk is Pasteurized.
